Farmingville, NY - At the June 4 Town Board meeting, Councilwomen Connie Kepert and Jane Bonner, and the Town Board honored Longwood High School senior Dunya Hamdan for her outstanding performance in the 35th Annual College & High School Photo Contest, sponsored by Nikon. The contest received over 17,000 photographs from students all over the world. As part of the competition, Dunya's photograph will be featured in the magazine's annual publication, "Best of College and High School Photography 2015."

Photographer's Forum magazine is an award-winning quarterly publication dedicated to quality reproduction of photography in the United States and Canada. Each issue strives to facilitate communication and publication experience among emerging professionals. Dunya plans to study photography at the Fashion Institute of Technology this fall.

"Dunya is a talented young lady who has a great future ahead of her in the field of photography and the arts," stated Councilwoman Connie Kepert.

Councilwoman Bonner said, "Looking at her work, it's obvious that Dunya is on a successful career path as a photographer. She has a wonderful gift that will take her far and I wish her luck in the future."
